OCTOBER 2ND, 2018

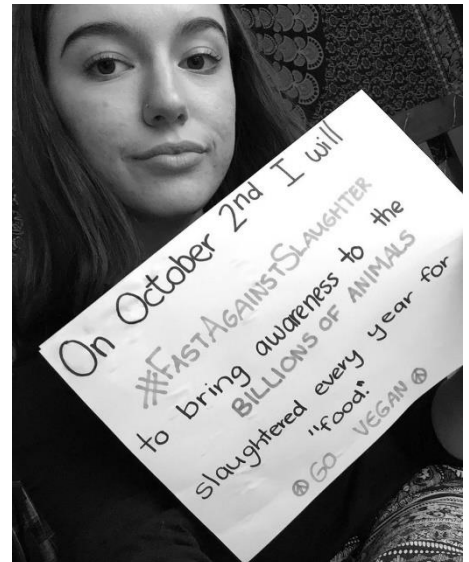

Hello, everyone!

Tomorrow, October 2nd, is World Day for Farmed Animals, a day devoted to exposing the truth behind animal agriculture and memorializing the billions of farmed animals slaughtered each year.

After short, sad lives on farms, these innocent animals face a brutal slaughter. During their last hours, the vast majority of farmed animals are starved on their way for slaughter. In solidarity with their suffering, we introduced the Fast Against Slaughter, a one-day fast to raise awareness of their suffering.

We understand that not everyone can join us in a day fast. If you are unable, rest assure there are still many things that you can do to help us expose the plight of farmed animals on their day. Here are ways to help:

1. Share are memes on social media using #DayForAnimals and #FastAgainstSlaughter
2. Share images of yourself holding a sign supporting people that have joined the Fast Against Slaughter. This is as simple as grabbing a peice of paper and writing "I support the #FastAgainstSlaughter because..." and then sharing it on social media
3. Share the pledge with friends and family and explain and encourage why it is important
4. Help us financially with a donation to help us cover our leaflet and poster shipping and printing costs

Don't miss this opportunity to stand with compassionate people around the world once again and raise awareness about the plight of farmed animals.

The animals need caring people like you to tell their story. Will you join in this powerful remembrance of their lives and speak up for them? Pledge now to join this solemn commemoration and huge day of outreach.

TAKE THE PLEDGE

Don't forget to join the conversation on social media with #dayforanimals and #fastagainstslaughter. You can also email photos to photos@dayforanimals.org.

Thank you for your unending support. Let's spread compassion all around the world!
